Sahlgrenska University Hospital, situated in Gothenburg, on the west coast of SWEDEN, is one of the largest hospitals in Europe with 16,700 members of staff. The hospital provides world-class care in a range of areas.

The hospital has three prioritized objectives:

- ✓ We offer first-rate emergency care
- ✓ We create value for the patient
- ✓ We are the leading university hospital in the country

Sahlgrenska University Hospital offers you the prospect of combining your professional specialization with research - and time with your family. We work closely with Gothenburg University/Sahlgrenska Academy, industry and other research and education establishments to provide you with an excellent opportunity for continuing professional development within your field of interest.

We are looking for someone who is organized and can take initiatives. You have the ability of active listening, to meet the patient's needs and create the opportunity for the patients to get involved in their own care. You take a leading role when the situation demands it, and adept at communicating in meetings with different professionals, patients and relatives.

We expect that you, with the patient in focus, perform your duties at an advanced level.

Moving to a new country is a big step and Sahlgrenska University Hospital is committed to make sure that your journey will be as simple as possible. If you have the skills we are looking for will make the following offer:

We will offer you language training and want you to study the language full time. We expect that you can reach B2-level in Swedish in 3-4 month. Therefore, you will receive study grants during the studies.

We expect that you can start working in March – April 2017.

Sahlgrenska University Hospital will also help you to find accommodation.

You will be offered an introduction at your work and additional language training if necessary.

We have individual wages determined on the basis of your 'skills and work experience. Therefore we will make an evaluation before determining your salary. The common rule is that the starting salary will be minimum 25 000 Swedish crowns per month when you start working as a specialized nurse. The starting salary for specialist doctors will be minimum 45 000 Swedish crowns per month. Wages are normally paid on the 27th of each month. Salary is paid for the current month and overtime or inconvenient time compensation are paid the following month.
